Grand Knight's Column

Thomas J. McGarvey

The Lenten season is a time for us to renew our commitment to our Catholic Faith and to show our love for God through fast, abstinence and other forms of self denial. It is also a time that we can reflect on our role as parents.

Many of us are fortunate to have children who came into this world healthy and happy but sometimes we don't realize what a profound effect our example, good or bad, has on their lives.

I'd like to share some prose with you which deals with this dilemma. It's called "DON'T BLAME THE CHILDREN" and it goes like this.

We read the paper and hear on the air
Of killing and stealing and crime everywhere.
We sigh and say we notice the trend;
"This young generation! Where will it all end?"
But we can be sure that it's their fault alone:
That maybe part of it isn't our own?
Are we less guilty who place in their way
Too many things that lead them astray?
Too many books not fit to be read;
Too much evil in what they hear said;
Too many children encouraged to roam
By too many parents who won't stay home.
Kids don't make the movies or write the books
That paint gay pictures of gangsters and crooks.
They don't make liquer or don't run bars,
They don't make the laws or don't buy the cars.
They don't peddle drugs that confuse the brain;
That's done by older folks greedy for gain.
Delinquent teenagers! Oh, how we condemn
The sins of the nation and blame it on them.

BY THE LAWS OF THE BLAMELESS.
THE SAVIOR MADE KNOWN

WHO IS THERE AMONG US TO CAST THE FIRST STONE?

For in so many cases t'is sad but true
That the title "DELINQUENT" fits older folks too.

I wish all the members and their families a very Happy
Easter and a very healthy Spring.

R.I.P. Fr. Joseph Driscoll

Father Driscoll was the first council chaplain for 4504, and served in that position for many years. He was an assistant pastor at St. Michael's for 15 years before becoming pastor of St. Andrew's in Westwood and then going to Washington, D.C. Many hundreds of Knights and parishioners of St. Michael's remember him fondly.

It was gratifying to have seen so many Knights at his wake service on Tuesday, Feb. 17. Some old-timers and some young were there, a true witness to our genuine concern for the soul of a priest. When a priest dies we tend to reflect on the mystery and gift of human life and faith. Here was a man who was called to be a priest of Jesus Christ, a man who, through God's providence and grace, led countless souls to salvation. He taught by his life the meaning of Lent and Easter.

Only God knows how many people were given the gift of spiritual life through Fr. Driscoll's hands at Baptism, or how many he reunited with the Lord and His Church through the sacrament of divine healing, Penance. Above all, Fr. Driscoll made Christ present on earth through the celebration of the Mass, the re-enactment of the death and resurrection of the Lord.

These are some of the heroic and salvific deeds which a priest does all the time, quietly and without much acclaim. The media tends to be anti-Catholic, and will jump on any kind of derogatory story. But the Church endures it all, because of people who keep the faith, and because of priests like Fr. Driscoll who keep on plugging, even if called to share in the Lord's sufferings. As Lent progresses, I hope we can all find meaning in our human struggles. May Lent be a holy and spiritually rewarding time.

Fr. Driscoll's portrait hangs in our council building, and rightly so. I hope that his generous smile reminds us of the joy he brought to so many, and that we see in that smile a glimpse of the smile of Jesus, the true priest, who has called Joseph Driscoll home.
